PREFACE

Pakistan Engineering Council the Statutory Regulatory body entrusted to regulate the engineering profession in Pakistan has undertaken among others, the standardization of country specific documents to regulate and streamline the procurement of engineering consultancy services and procurement of works. Standard Procedure for Pre-qualification of Constructors is one such document prepared by a team of experts comprising Employers, Constructors and Consultants. It is expected that use of this document will provide an equitable and just basis for pre-qualification of constructors for transparent bidding and award of construction contracts in line with the international practice and relevant PEC Bye-Laws thus minimizing ambiguities and likely contractual disputes.

Pakistan Engineering Council wishes to place on record its deep appreciation for the tremendous work done by the Standards and Quality Committee and M/s National Development Consultants (NDC) in finalizing this document. Various engineering organizations and departments are requested to use this document for pre-qualification of constructors. Any suggestions to improve this document are welcome which may please be addressed to:

INSTRUCTIONS TO USERS OF THIS DOCUMENT

The document includes the following:

1. Introduction
2. Invitation for Pre-qualification
3. Instructions to Applicants
4. Evaluation Criteria
5. Annexures

In the Invitation for Pre-qualification of Constructors, Instruction to Applicants and Letter of Application, the 'User' may make changes in the text only under some special circumstances. However blank spaces in the Invitation for Pre-qualification and Instructions to Applicants are required to be filled in by the Employer in accordance with the requirements, on tender to tender basis, before issuance of pre-qualification documents. Specific information required may be added/deleted in the Forms to Letter of Application.

Instructions to users to use the document and to evaluate the pre-qualification application are given herein-below:

A. Introduction

The basic aim of pre-qualification is presented in Introduction, to avoid confusion of some Executing Agencies to consider enlistment and/or registration with departments and Pakistan Engineering Council as a substitution of pre-qualification. Therefore, the information listed in Introduction clarifies the difference between pre-qualification and enlistment/registration.

B. Invitation for Pre-qualification

Although under blank spaces, in various sections of this document instructions to the user have been included to fill in. These instructions should be deleted in the document to be issued after completion. However, following additional procedure may be taken into account and kept in mind for completing or filling-in the blank spaces before the Invitation for Pre-qualification is issued to the prospective Applicants:

- i) Invitation for Prequalification Notice be advertized through on PEC & PPRA's Web site and other relevant/available forum for procurements estimated to cost more than Rs. Forty Thousand (40,000/-) and also through press when procurement is estimated to cost more than Rupees one million. The invitation shall be open to all applicants licensed by PEC in the respective category besides specific requirements of the User if included in the document.
- ii) Generally not less than six (6) weeks shall be provided for preparation/submission of applications by the applicants. However for large/complex projects the period may be extended upto twelve (12) weeks.
- iii) It is preferable to package a project in such a way so as to allow medium sized construction firms to bid. Also preference to provide benefit to local construction Industry in Pakistan shall always be considered. Therefore the Project, if it can be divided into packages, the User may do the same. However Employer/User may decide the packages keeping in view of interfacing and co-ordination problems as a result of smaller packaging of a Project.

- iv) Under para 7 of Invitation for Pre-qualification, minimum requirements have to be specified. For guidance, the following may be considered; however the Employer/User can fix his own criteria depending upon nature, size and requirements of the specific projects. An example merely as guideline is given hereinafter for reference of users of this document.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Advantages of Prequalification

Pre-qualification is an assessment made by the Employer, of the appropriate level of experience and capacity of firms expressing interest in undertaking a particular contract, before inviting them to bid.

Pre-qualification of constructors is very useful for the Employer (also to the constructors) to carry out selection of firms for award of contracts. The basic aim of the pre-qualification is intended to eliminate, early in procurement proceedings, Constructors that are not suitably qualified to perform the Contract. Also some times Constructors are reluctant to participate in procurement proceedings for high value Contracts, if the competitive field is too large and where they run the risk of having to compete with unrealistic tenders submitted by unqualified or disreputable Constructors. Furthermore, the Prequalification is the basic tool to:

- (i) Encourage realistic bids by the Bidders because they know that they are competing against qualified bidders who have cleared the minimum competence criteria;
- (ii) Assess the interest of the prospective bidders in the bidding process;
- (iii) Make any adjustments/modifications in the bidding documents if a pointer is available from the lack of interest by the prospective bidders applying for pre-qualification;
- (iv) Reduce the effort and so the time in evaluation of bids from un-qualified bidders;
- (v) Help the bidders to evaluate and take stock of their capability and consequently to form joint ventures with other firms;
- (vi) Reduce the problems associated with low priced bids from bidders of doubtful capability and;
- (vii) Help the bidders who are insufficiently qualified to avoid the expense of bidding.

1.2 Recapitulation

To recapitulate the afore-given, the pre-qualification specifically means selection of competent bidders prior to issuance of the invitations to bid. It is required for large or complex works, in certain cases for custom designed equipment and specialized services. Pre-qualification is also helpful for providing a chance for selection of smaller constructors under “Slice and Package” system of tendering. Pre-qualification is also useful in saving the employers from numerous un-necessary problems.
